

Best Practice 1

Title of the Practice: RUSA Finishing School “Training program to economically and socially backward V & VI semester students”.

2.Objective of the Practice:

The aim of the FINISHING SCHOOL is to impart all around personality development of the economically and socially backward students and instruct them in specific skills necessary in today's world.

3.The Context:

Indian society suffers from substantial inequalities in education employment. In spite of the increase in overall educational levels, the skills required to be professionally successful are still far from what is expected. A finishing school training program is a platform for students that emphasize training for all round personality development, cultural and social activities. Specific skill sets are imparted as value addition. The name reflects that it follows school or college education and is intended to complete the educational experience. Finishing schools aim at the standard improvement of individuals leading to a stability among theoretical studies and realistic job experiences.

Finishing Schools offer many benefits for students and some of the key benefits associated with this area consists of developing presentation skills, communication skill, confidence enhancement, leadership and team skill, interview tips, success traits, incorporating spirituality etc. Students who join these schools will get a unique opportunity to attain the perfect stability between both theoretical studies and realistic job exposure.

4. The Practices:

Every year final year students are enrolled for the training program and the programs are arranged during the late hours or after course completion without effecting their normal classes. The following activities are done in the training program:

- (i) Public Speaking
- (ii) Power Point Presentation
- (iii) Spoken English
- (iv) Resume Writing
- (v) Networking and Communication Skills
- (vi) Leadership and Team Skills
- (vii) Group Discussion
- (viii) Personal Interview
- (ix) Success Traits
- (x) Incorporating Spirituality

5. Evidence of Success:

(a) Since its implementation, more than 190 students are successfully completed their training program on various soft skills.

(b) Feedback analysis after course revealed that students are found the course very valuable and they wish to recommend this course to other students. They wished to attend more such courses in future.

(c) Photos are attached.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

(a)The main challenge was to find time slots for the training program. Most of the students come from remote areas and they cannot attend classes during late hours.

(b)Another major challenge was the engagement of resource person during the regular class hour. Most of the teacher remains busy with their normal class schedule during the regular working hours.
